

Graduate Programs in Japanese Language and Literature

Introduction

The graduate program in Japanese Language and Literature is designed primarily for students who wish to focus their studies on Japanese literature and language, including novels, drama, poetry and linguistics, from the classics to modern literature.

The aims of the program are to cultivate a better understanding of Japanese literature and language and to foster the development of highly-educated, responsible young women who can contribute to the world.

Learning to prize a sense of flexibility and sensitivity is central to the goals of the program, as well as nurturing appreciation from a woman's viewpoint.
